heart

noun | used to refer to a person's character, or the place within a person where feelings or emotions are considered to come from Everything we do is driven by our character. Like an engine, our hearts power our thoughts, words and actions. Our character is powerful and is constantly driving us in one direction or another; taking care of it is essential for moving forward in life.

Heart ■ Ambition ■ Respect ■ Tenacity ambition

noun | a strong desire to achieve a particular thing

Just as a compass provides a sense of direction, our ambitions are important in guiding the steps we take in life. Our ambition can help us navigate between different decisions and choices to ensure we reach our desired destination.

respect

noun | appreciation, honour, and care shown towards someone or something that is considered important

A diamond is treated with honour because of its uniqueness. Like a diamond, every person is unique. We show respect to people, things and places because they have value. Being respectful shows appreciation for the elements that make up our lives.

noun | the determination to continue what you are doing

Life demands tenacity. For example, trees only exist because at some point a seed showed determination in overcoming the obstacles of its environment. In order to grow, thrive and flourish in different contexts we need to demonstrate tenacity.
