They allow candidates with special educational needs, disabilities or temporary injuries to access the assessment and show what they know and can do without changing the demands of the assessment. The intention behind an access arrangement is to meet the particular needs of an individual candidate without affecting the integrity of the assessment. Access arrangements are the principal way in which awarding bodies comply with the duty under the Equality Act 2010 to make 'reasonable adjustments'." (AA definitions - page 3).

8.5.2 Reasonable adjustments: "The Equality Act 2010 requires an Awarding Body to make reasonable adjustments where a disabled person would be at a substantial disadvantage in undertaking an assessment. A reasonable adjustment for a particular person may be unique to that individual and may not be included in the list of available Access Arrangements. How reasonable the adjustment is will depend on a number of factors including the needs of the disabled candidate/learner. An adjustment may not be considered reasonable if it involves unreasonable costs, timeframes or affects the security or integrity of the assessment. There is no duty on the Awarding Bodies to make any adjustment to the assessment objectives being tested in an assessment.” (AA definitions, page 11.)

8.6 Disability Policy (Exams)

- ii. Assessor completes appropriate sections of the Form 8.
- iii. Form 8 is kept on file and used by Exams Officer to apply for access arrangements via CAP portal.

8.10 Gathering Evidence to Demonstrate Normal Ways of Working

Evidence of a normal way of working is collated from:

- i. in the classroom (where appropriate);
- ii. working in small groups for reading and/or writing;
- iii. literacy support lessons;
- iv. literacy intervention strategies;

8.11 Processing Access Arrangements - Arrangements Requiring Awarding Body Approval

This tool also provides the facility to order modified papers for those qualifications listed on page 73

- ii. AAO is accessed by logging in to the JCQ CAP portal. A single application is required for each candidate regardless of the awarding body used.

8.12 Separate Invigilation within the Centre

- i. A decision where an exam candidate may be approved separate invigilation within the centre will be made by the SENCo.
- ii. The decision will be based on “whether the candidate has a substantial and long term impairment which has an adverse effect and the candidate’s normal way of working within the centre.”

9. Word Processor Policy (Exams)

9.1 Criteria to Award and Allocate Word Processors for Examinations

- i. The 'normal way of working' for exam candidates, as directed by the Head of Centre, is to handwrite exams. An exception to this is where a candidate may have an approved access arrangement in place, for example the use of a scribe/speech recognition technology.
- ii. There are also exceptions where a candidate may be awarded the use of a word processor in exams where he/she has a firmly established need, it reflects the candidate's normal way of working and by not being awarded a word processor would be at a substantial disadvantage to other candidates.
- iii. Exceptions might include where a candidate has, for example:
 - a learning difficulty which has a substantial and long term adverse effect on their ability to write legibly
 - a medical condition
 - a physical disability
 - a sensory impairment
 - planning and organisational problems when writing by hand
 - poor handwriting

9.2 Allocating Word Processors

- i. Appropriate exam-compliant word processors will be allocated by the IT Department in liaison with the SENCo and the Exams Officer.
- ii. In exceptional circumstances where the number of appropriate word processors may be insufficient for the cohort of candidates approved to use them in an exam session, the cohort will be split into two groups. One group will sit the exam earlier than or later than the published start time. The security of the exam will be maintained at all times and candidates will be supervised in line with ICE.
- iii. An exam candidate may be approved the use of a word processor where this is appropriate to the candidate's needs and not simply because this is the candidate's preferred way of working within the centre.

9.3 Principles for Using a Word Processor

Hartshill Academy complies with AA chapter 4 Adjustments for Candidates with Disabilities and Learning Difficulties Regulations and Guidance as follows:

- i. Candidates with access to word processors are allowed to do so in order to remove barriers for disabled candidates which prevent them from being placed at a substantial disadvantage as a consequence of persistent and significant difficulties
- ii. The use of word processors is only permitted whilst ensuring that the integrity of the assessment is maintained, at the same time as providing access to assessments for a disabled candidate
- iii. The use of a word processor is not granted where it will compromise the assessment objectives of the specification in question.
- iv. Candidates may not require the use of a word processor in each specification. As subjects and their methods of assessments may vary, leading to different demands of our candidates, the need for the use of a word processor is considered on a subject-by-subject basis.

- v. The use of a word processor is normally considered and agreed where appropriate at the start of the course providing the centre has firmly established a picture of need and normal way of working for a candidate.
- vi. Candidates are made aware when they will have the use of a word processor for timetabled examinations and non-examination assessments.
- vii. The use of a word processor for candidates is only granted if it reflects the support given to the candidate as their 'normal way of working', which is defined as support:
 - in the classroom (where appropriate); or
 - working in small groups for reading and/or writing; or
 - literacy support lessons; or
 - literacy intervention strategies; and/or
 - in internal academy tests/examinations or mock examinations.
- viii. The only exceptions to the above would be a temporary injury or impairment, or a diagnosis of a disability or manifestation of an impairment relating to an existing disability arising after the start of the course.

9.4 The Use of a Word Processor

Hartshill Academy complies with AA chapter 5 Access Arrangements Available as follows:

- i. Provides a word processor with the spelling and grammar check facility/predictive text disabled (switched off).
- ii. Only grants the use of a word processor to a candidate where it is their normal way of working within the Centre.
- iii. Only grants the use of a word processor to a candidate if it is appropriate to their needs (for example, the quality of language significantly improves as a result of using a word processor due to problems with planning and organisation when writing by hand). This also extends to the use of electronic brailers and tablets.
- iv. Provides access to word processors to candidates in non-examination assessment components as standard practice unless prohibited by the specification.
- v. Allows candidates to use a word processor in an examination to type certain questions, i.e. those requiring extended writing, and handwrite shorter answers.
- vi. Are also aware that examinations which have a significant amount of writing, as well as those that place a greater demand on the need to organise thought and plan extended answers, are those where candidates will frequently need to type. Examinations which require more simplistic answers are often easier to handwrite within the answer booklet. The candidate avoids the difficulty of visually tracking between the question paper and screen.
- vii. In all cases, ensures that a word processor cover sheet (Form 4) is completed and included with each candidate's typed script (according to the instructions issued by the individual awarding body).

- viii. Does not simply grant the use of a word processor to a candidate because he/she prefers to type rather than write or can work faster on a keyboard, or because he/she uses a laptop at home.

9.5 Word Processors and Their Programmes

Hartshill Academy complies with ICE Word Processors Guidance by ensuring:

- i. Word processors are used as a type-writer, not as a database, although standard formatting software is acceptable.
- ii. Word processors have been cleared of any previously stored data, as must any portable storage medium used.
- iii. An unauthorised memory stick is not permitted for use by a candidate.
- iv. Centres are required to retain electronic copies of word-processed scripts until the EAR (enquiries about results) deadline has passed. Candidates are provided with a memory stick to save their work; this is then transferred to a secure drive for retention by the exams officer. The memory stick is cleared and is available for use for the candidate's next exam. Word processors are in good working order at the time of the examination.
- v. Word processors are accommodated in such a way that other candidates are not disturbed and cannot read the screen.
- vi. Where a candidate using a word processor is accommodated separately, a separate invigilator is used.
- vii. Word processors are either connected to a printer so that a script can be printed off, or have the facility to print from a portable storage medium.
- viii. Documents are printed after the examination is over.
- ix. Candidates are present to verify that the work printed is their own.
- x. Word processed scripts are inserted in/attached to any answer booklet which contains some of the answers (and according to instructions issued by the individual awarding body).
- xi. Word processors are used to produce scripts under secure conditions, and if they are not then the centre is aware that they may be refused by the awarding body.
- xii. Word processors are not used to perform skills which are being assessed.
- xiii. Word processors are not connected to an intranet or any other means of communication.
- xiv. Candidates are not given access to other applications such as a calculator (where prohibited in the examination), spreadsheets etc. when using a word processor.
- xv. Graphic packages or computer aided design software is not included on a word processor unless permission has been given to use these.
- xvi. Predictive text software or an automatic spelling and grammar check is disabled unless the candidate has been permitted a scribe or is using voice recognition technology (the script must have a completed scribe cover sheet included), or the awarding body's specification permits the use of automatic spell checking.

- xvii. Voice recognition technology is not included on word processors unless the candidate has permission to use a scribe or relevant software.
- xviii. Word processors are not used on the candidate's behalf by a third party unless the candidate has permission to use a scribe.

9.6 Laptops and Tablets

Hartshill Academy further complies with these instructions by ensuring:

- i. Tablets used during examinations/assessments are designed to run for a long period of time once fully charged and are 'free-standing'.
- ii. The battery capacity of all laptops and/or tablets is checked before the candidate's examination(s) with the battery sufficiently charged for the entire duration of the examination.
- iii. Candidates with fully charged laptops or tablets are given the opportunity to be seated within the main examination hall without the need for separate invigilation and power points.
- iv. Candidates are reminded that their centre number, candidate number and the unit/component code must appear on each page as a header or footer.
- v. Candidates use Writepad software, which automatically inserts headers and footers with candidates' details and a signature section. Once candidates have finished the examination and printed off and signed their typed script. Candidates are also supervised to ensure that they are solely performing this task and not re-reading their answers or amending their work in any way.
- vi. Invigilators remind candidates to save their work at regular intervals.
- vii. Where it is possible 'AutoSave' is set up on each laptop/tablet.
- viii. Candidates are present at the end of the examination when their script is printed off so they can verify that the work printed is their own.

9.7 Accommodating Word Processors in Examinations

Candidates using word processors (including laptops or tablets) are internally accommodated with invigilators in a separate location. All other rules and regulations as above will be maintained in this situation.

10. Emergency Evacuation

10.1 When is an Emergency Evacuation Required?

- i. An emergency evacuation is required where it is unsafe for candidates to remain in the exam room. This might include a fire in the exam room, the fire alarm sounding to warn of fire, bomb alert or other serious threat.
- ii. In exceptional situations, where candidates might be severely disadvantaged or distressed by remaining in the exam room, the emergency evacuation procedure may also need to be followed. This might include situations where there is severe disruption in the exam room, serious illness of a candidate or invigilator or similarly serious incidents.

10.2 Emergency Evacuation of an Exam Room - Roles and Responsibilities

10.2.1 Head of Centre: ensures the emergency evacuation policy for exams is fit for purpose and complies with relevant health and safety regulation.

10.2.2 Senior Leader: where responsible for the centre-wide emergency evacuation procedure, ensures all staff and appointed fire marshals are aware of the policy and procedures to be followed when an emergency evacuation of an exam room is required.

10.2.3 Special Educational Needs Coordinator (SENCo): ensures

- i. appropriate arrangements are in place for the emergency evacuation of a disabled candidate from an exam room where different procedures or assistance may need to be provided for the candidate;
- ii. the candidate is informed prior to taking their exams of what will happen in the event of an emergency evacuation.

10.2.4 Exams Officer:

- i. Ensures invigilators are trained in emergency evacuation procedures and how an incident and actions taken must be recorded.
- ii. Ensures candidates are briefed (Candidate exam handbook), prior to exams taking place, on what will happen in the event of an emergency in the exam room.
- iii. Provides invigilators with a copy of the emergency evacuation procedures for every exam room.
- iv. Provides a standard invigilator announcement for each exam which includes appropriate information for candidates regarding what will happen if the fire alarm sounds.
- v. Provides an exam room incident log in each exam room.
- vi. Liaises with the SENCo and other relevant staff prior to each exam where different procedures or assistance may need to be provided for a disabled candidate.
- vii. Briefs invigilators prior to each exam where different procedures or assistance may need to be provided for a disabled candidate.

- viii. Ensures appropriate follow-up is undertaken after an emergency evacuation reporting the incident to the awarding body and the actions taken through the special consideration process.

10.2.5 Invigilators:

- i. By attending training, ensure they understand what to do in the event of an emergency in the exam room.
- ii. Follow the actions required in the emergency evacuation procedure issued to them for every exam room.
- iii. Confirm with the exams officer, where different procedures or assistance may need to be provided for a disabled candidate they are invigilating.

10.5.6 Other Relevant Centre Staff: will support the senior leader, SENCo, Exams Officer and invigilators in ensuring the safe emergency evacuation of exam rooms.

10.6 Emergency Evacuation Procedure

- i. Invigilators are trained in the evacuation procedure and understand the actions they must take in the event of a fire alarm or other emergency that leads to an evacuation of the exam room.
- ii. For a lockdown situation adhere to the emergency evacuation procedure which is contained in the Lockdown Procedures (Appendix 6).

When dealing with emergencies you must be aware of any instructions from relevant local or national agencies.

In an emergency such as a fire alarm or a bomb alert, the invigilator must take the following action:

- stop the candidates from writing;
- collect the attendance register (to ensure all candidates are present) and evacuate the examination room to the evacuation points outside
- advise candidates to leave all question papers and scripts in the examination room. Candidates must be advised to close their answer booklet;
- ensure the candidates leave the room in silence;
- ensure candidates are supervised closely and they remain in silence while they are out of the examination room so that there is no discussion;
- make a note of the time of the interruption and how long it lasted;
- allow the candidates the remainder of the working time set for the examination once it resumes;

A full report of the incident must be produced and retained on file if required.

Any breach of question paper security or malpractice must be reported to the awarding body immediately.

An online application for special consideration must be submitted to the relevant awarding body where candidates have been disadvantaged.

11. Special Consideration

11.1 Definition of Special Consideration

- i. Special consideration is a post-examination adjustment to a candidate's mark or grade to reflect temporary illness, temporary injury or some other event outside of the candidate's control at the time of the assessment, which has had, or is reasonably likely to have had, a material effect on a candidate's ability to take an assessment or demonstrate his or her normal level of attainment in an assessment.
- ii. Special consideration can only seek to go some way to assist a candidate affected by a potentially wide range of difficulties, emotional or physical, which may influence performance in examinations. It cannot remove the difficulty faced by the candidate. There will be situations where candidates should not be entered for an examination. Only minor adjustments can be made to the mark awarded because to do more than this would jeopardise the standard of the examination." (JCQ A Guide To The Special Consideration Process - Section 1).

11.2 Eligibility for Special Consideration - Roles and Responsibilities

11.2.1 Head of Centre:

- i. Is familiar with the contents, refers to and directs relevant centre staff to the annually updated JCQ publication Special Consideration.
- ii. Ensures that, where relevant and in eligible situations, applications for special consideration will be submitted to awarding bodies by the Exams Officer.

11.2.2 Exams Officer:

- i. Understands the criteria as detailed in Special Consideration to determine where candidates will / will not be eligible for special consideration.
- ii. Ensures that, where relevant and in eligible situations, applications for special consideration will be submitted to awarding bodies.

11.2.3 Teaching Staff and / or SENCo: provide any appropriate evidence or information that may be required to determine a candidate's eligibility for special consideration.

11.2.4 Candidates or Parents / Carers: provide any medical or other evidence that may be required to determine eligibility for special consideration.

11.3 Applying for Special Consideration

11.3.1 Where eligible, special consideration will be applied for in a specific exam series where candidates "...have been fully prepared and have covered the whole course but performance in the examination, or in the production of controlled assessment, coursework or non-examination assessment, is materially affected by adverse circumstances beyond their control."

11.3.2 Where a candidate may arrive for an exam and is clearly unwell, extremely distressed and/or may have sustained an injury that requires emergency access arrangements to be put in place:

- i. the candidate will be kept comfortable and under supervision from the required time while appropriate arrangements are put in place for him/her to take the exam in the best possible conditions;
 - ii. a judgement will be made on how the candidate's situation or disposition affected performance in the exam;
 - iii. where appropriate and where eligible, special consideration will be applied for
- 11.3.3 Where candidates may be affected by a major disturbance in the exam room (emergency evacuation etc.), special consideration will be applied for on behalf of all candidates.
- 11.3.4 Where a candidate takes multiple exams (three or more exams) timetabled for the same day and the total duration for those papers is more than 5 hours 30 minutes for GCSE exams including any approved extra time but not any time taken for supervised rest breaks, special consideration for an allowance on last paper taken will be applied for.
- 11.3.5 Where a candidate may be affected by a minor disturbance in the exam room caused by another candidate (momentary bad behaviour, mobile phone ringing etc.), special consideration cannot be applied for.
- 11.3.6 If a candidate is absent for acceptable reasons, and the centre can verify this, special consideration will be applied for if the exam missed is in the terminal series and the minimum requirements for enhanced grading in cases of acceptable absence can be met. If there is an opportunity to re-enter the candidate in the next available exam series, the centre will make the entry and special consideration will not be applied for.
- 11.3.7 Where other issues or problems affect a candidate or a group of candidates, special consideration will be explored in and applied for where eligible. This might include, for example:
 - i. requesting an honorary certificate;
 - ii. a short extension to controlled assessment / coursework / non-examination assessment deadlines;
 - iii. submitting a reduced quantity of controlled assessment/coursework/non-examination assessment (shortfall in work);
 - iv. lost or damaged work;
 - v. candidates taking an incorrect or defective question paper or the wrong controlled assessment assignment.
- 11.3.8 Where a candidate may be eligible for special consideration (a post assessment adjustment) in a vocational qualification, the centre will follow and awarding body guidance to determine if, when and how an adjustment can be applied for.

11.4. Processing Applications for Special Consideration - Roles and Responsibilities

- 11.4.1 Head of Centre: ensures where a candidate may be a relative of the exams officer, the application will be authorised by an alternative member of centre staff

11.4.2 Exams Officer:

- i. ensures applications will be processed as required by the awarding bodies;
- ii. keeps evidence to support applications on file until after the publication of results;
- iii. meets the required deadline(s) for submitting applications.

11.4.3 Teaching Staff and / or SENCo: provides any appropriate evidence or information that may be required to support a candidate's application for special consideration.

11.4.4 Candidates or Parents / Carers: will be asked to provide any required medical or other evidence that may be required to support an application for special consideration.

11.5 Submitting Applications for Special Consideration

- i. Where a candidate or group of candidates is/are eligible for special consideration, applications will be submitted to the relevant awarding body following the published processes in Special Consideration.
- ii. Evidence to support applications will be kept on file until after the publication of results.

11.6 Timetabled Written Exams

- i. Applications for individual candidates will be submitted online by logging into the relevant awarding body secure extranet site and following the links to special consideration.
- ii. The processes for submitting a single application to cover all exams where a candidate is present but disadvantaged and a separate application for each day where a candidate is absent from an examination for an acceptable reason detailed in will be followed.
- iii. For other qualifications, applications are submitted online where the awarding body's secure system accepts these.
- iv. The paper form 10 JCQ/SC Application for Special Consideration will only be completed and submitted to the awarding body where the online system does not accept applications for a particular qualification.
- v. For groups of candidates, applications will be made online where the awarding body's secure system accepts group applications or form 10 will be completed.
- vi. The paper form 14 JCQ/ME Self Certification for Candidates Who Have Missed an Examination will only be completed by a candidate where circumstances warrant this and will not be used where the centre knows the candidate was ill.

11.7 Internally Assessed Work

- i. Where appropriate, applications will be made online where the awarding body's secure system accepts them or form 10 will be completed and submitted to the awarding body.

- ii. Where a short extension to a deadline is being requested an application will be submitted online or by direct email, dependent on the awarding body.
- iii. Where an application relates to a shortfall in work, this will be submitted online or by completing form 10, dependent on the awarding body.
- iv. Where an application relates to lost or damaged work, this will be submitted online or by completing form 15 JCQ/LCW Notification of Lost Centre Assessed Work, dependent on the awarding body.

12.2 The Use of ICT in Coursework and Controlled Assessment

12.2.1 What if Candidates' Work is in an Electronic Format?

Candidates' preparatory work may be in an electronic format. The work they are producing for assessment may also be in an electronic format. Centres must take steps to ensure that they meet the requirements for secure storage described above. This may involve collecting memory sticks for secure storage between sessions or restricting candidates' access to specific areas of the Centre's IT network.

12.2.2 Are Candidates Allowed to Use Their Own Computers or Other Electronic Devices?

They are, however, additional precautions must be taken if the Centre permits candidates to use their own devices, either to store preparatory work and/or to write up their work. In these circumstances, the Centre is responsible for establishing and implementing a procedure to ensure compliance with the requirements for secure storage described above.

12.3 The Storage of Coursework and Controlled Assessment (in Paper and Electronic Formats) - Keeping Materials Secure

12.3.1 What Constitutes Secure Storage in The Context of Controlled Assessment?

Secure storage is defined as a securely locked cabinet or cupboard (where work is stored in hard copy format). Where candidates are producing artefacts (e.g. Art and Design or Design and Technology) secure storage may be defined as a classroom, studio or workshop which is locked or supervised from the end of one session to the start of the next.

12.3.2 Is Secure Storage of Candidates' Work Required Throughout The Task-Taking Stage?

No. When candidates are undertaking research, data collection or other preparatory work under limited control (limited supervision), secure storage is not required at this stage.

12.3.3 When Does The Requirement for Secure Storage of Candidates' Work Come Into Play?

Secure storage is required from the point at which candidates embark on producing work for assessment. All work that will be submitted for assessment must always be collected at the end of each session and stored securely between sessions.

12.3.4 Does the Requirement for Secure Storage Extend to Candidates' Preparatory Work?

Yes, if the work for assessment is being produced under high control (formal supervision).

High Control (Formal Supervision)	From the point at which candidates embark on producing work for assessment, they are not permitted to amend or augment their preparatory work. All work must, therefore be collected at the end of each session and stored securely between sessions i.e. work for assessment and preparatory work.
Medium Control (Informal Supervision)	Work produced for assessment must be collected at the end of each session and stored securely between sessions. The requirement does not extend to preparatory work unless the specification or subject specific guidance states otherwise. Candidates are allowed to continue to undertake preparatory work under limited control (limited supervision) beyond the point at which they embark on producing work for assessment.

12.3.5 Are Teachers Allowed to Take Work Home To Mark?

Yes, provided that they take sensible precautions regarding its security.

12.3.6 When Can Marked Work Be Removed From Secure Storage?

- i. Internally assessed work that is not required for moderation purposes and work returned to centres after moderation must be stored securely until all possible post-results services have been exhausted.
- ii. If post-results services have not been requested, internally assessed work may be returned to candidates after the deadline for enquiries about results for the relevant series. If post-results services have been requested, internally assessed work may be returned once the enquiry about results and any subsequent appeal is complete.

12.3.7 When Can Preparatory Work Be Removed From Secure Storage?

Preparatory work should remain in secure storage until marks have been submitted to the awarding body.

13. Additional Information

13.1 Procedure to Verify the Identity of All Candidates

- I. Candidate name cards with candidate number are located on each exam desk ahead of the start of any exam.*
- II. A register is taken with all pupils' allocated seats shown, and identity checked on entry to and seating in the exam room.*

13.2 Overseas Pupils: managing overseas pupils is the responsibility of the senior leadership team.

13.3 Contingency Planning: contingency planning for exams administration is the responsibility of the senior leadership team and is set out in Appendix 1.

13.4 Private Candidates

- i. Managing private candidates is the responsibility of the Senior Leadership Team.
- ii. Where relevant and eligible, form VQ/SC Application for Special Consideration Vocational Qualifications will be completed and submitted to the awarding body.

13.5 Estimated Grades: Subject Leaders are responsible for submitting estimated grades to the exams officer when requested.

13.6 Managing Invigilators

- i. External staff are used to invigilate examinations.
- ii. These invigilators will be used for internal exams and external exams.
- iii. Recruitment of invigilators is the responsibility of the exams office and Senior Leadership Team.
- iv. Securing the necessary Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) clearance for new invigilators is the responsibility of the Centre administration.
- v. DBS fees for securing such clearance are paid by the Centre.
- vi. Invigilators are timetabled and briefed by the Exams Officer.
- vii. Invigilators rates of pay are set by the Senior Leadership Team.

13.7 Plagiarism in Examinations - Guidance

<https://www.jcq.org.uk/exams-office/malpractice/plagiarism-in-assessments---guidance-for-teachersassessors>

- i. This guidance note is written for the staff of assessment centres who have responsibility for supervising and/or marking candidates' coursework or portfolio work. It is one of three similar guides produced by the Joint Council for Qualifications, the others being targeted at candidates, and the staff of Awarding Bodies, including moderators and examiners. These guidance notes can be found on the Joint Council Website <http://www.jcq.org.uk/>
- ii. An analysis of the statistics for malpractice in examinations shows that the incidence of plagiarism is rising. This has been recorded by Awarding Bodies and is a concern of the universities as well.
- iii. The effect of this rise in plagiarism is to call into question the integrity of examinations generally and, especially those assessment components such as coursework where plagiarism can be undertaken most easily. If coursework is to remain as a viable assessment method, it is the duty of all who are preparing and assessing candidates for examinations as well as those who have an interest in the setting, marking and administration of examinations, to do whatever they can to address and seek to reverse the rise of plagiarism.

Defining Plagiarism

- i. Before considering what steps can be taken to counter this practice, it is necessary to have a clear idea of what plagiarism is.
- ii. There are many definitions of plagiarism, but they all have in common the idea of taking someone else's intellectual effort and presenting it as one's own. The Joint Council's Guidelines for Dealing with Instances of Suspected Malpractice defines plagiarism as: "The failure to acknowledge sources properly and/or the submission of another person's work as if it were the candidate's own."
- iii. Mostly, plagiarism refers to copying from published texts whether these are in print or on the internet, but it can also refer to copying from manufactured artefacts, or essays or pieces of work previously submitted for examinations.
- iv. A strict interpretation of the term "work" in the above definition would include the original ideas, as well as the actual words or artefacts produced by another. Unless the candidate has submitted an extensive and unacknowledged paraphrase (amounting to more than 50% of the total) of another person's writings, however, the Awarding Bodies will not include paraphrasing under the definition of plagiarism. Instead markers should reflect the incidence of any paraphrasing in the way they apply the mark scheme. On the other hand, plagiarism will cover the direct and unacknowledged translation of foreign language texts into English.
- v. It should be noted that in the context of the Joint Council Awarding Bodies, plagiarism does not include collusion that is, working collaboratively with other candidates; neither does it include copying from another candidate in the same examination session. Both of these are defined as different forms of malpractice.
- vi. By virtue of its definition, plagiarism is restricted to those examination components where pupils undertake examination work in unsupervised conditions, such as coursework, pre-release work, or the compilation of research notes which can be used in the examination. It can also occur when candidates are permitted to annotate texts and bring these into the examination room.

Why Plagiarism is on The Increase?

The reasons why candidates plagiarise are varied, but among them are:

- i. The candidate's lack of awareness of the regulations.
- ii. The candidate's failure to allow sufficient time to produce the work.
- iii. The greater pressures on pupils to succeed.
- iv. The increased number of coursework components in examinations.
- v. The candidate's lack of skill in using source material and/or acknowledging the use of material.

- vi. The greater availability of information on the internet and ease with which this can be copied.
- vii. The encouragement to use the internet freely as a source of information, together with the pupil's failure to keep accurate records of web pages accessed.
- viii. The growth of websites providing coursework, either by facilitating the swapping of pupils' work, or by providing, for a fee, finished pieces of coursework.
- ix. The idea of a quick solution or short cut appeals to some candidates; particularly if the task does not interest them.
- x. The candidates plagiarise the work of others because they think their production of coursework during the course will not be monitored.

Preventing Plagiarism

If you are teacher or assessor entering candidates for a qualification with a coursework component, you must accept the obligation to authenticate the work which is submitted for assessment. You must confirm that the work produced is solely that of the candidate concerned. You must not accept work which is not the candidate's own. If plagiarism is discovered prior to the signing of a declaration of authentication the incident need not be reported to the Awarding Body, but you should deal with the matter in accordance with your own centre's procedures.

In order to prevent plagiarism you:

- i. Should consider incorporating an awareness raising session on academic honesty in the induction process for new pupils.
- ii. Must ensure that each candidate is issued with an individual copy of Notice to Candidates: Coursework and Portfolios (JCQ document).
Must ensure that each candidate understands the contents of the leaflet; particularly the meaning of plagiarism and what penalties may be applied.
- iii. Should reinforce to a candidate the significance of their signature on the form which states they have understood and followed the coursework and portfolio requirements for the subject.
- iv. Could require pupils to sign a declaration that they have understood what plagiarism is, and that it is forbidden, in the learning agreement that is signed at enrolment in some centres.
- v. Should make clear what is and what is not acceptable in respect of plagiarism and the use of sources, including the use of websites. It is unacceptable to simply state Internet, just as it would be unacceptable to state Library rather than the title of the book, name of the author, the chapter and page reference. It is similarly unacceptable to list search engines such as Google, Ask Jeeves etc. Candidates must provide details of any web pages from which they are quoting or paraphrasing. Some suggestions on acceptable forms of referencing can be found at the end of this guide.
- vi. Should teach the conventions of using footnotes and bibliographies to acknowledge sources. There is no one standard way of acknowledging sources but the use of inverted commas, indented quotations, acknowledgement of the author, line/page number, title of source, indicate that the candidate is using a source. Teachers and pupils should be aware that when acknowledging sources clarity ensures that there is no suspicion of plagiarism;

- vii. Should teach the use of quotation marks when sources are quoted directly (a suggested guideline for the need to put items in quotation marks would be the use of more than six words in unchanged form).
- viii. Should set reasonable deadlines for submission of work and provide reminders.
- ix. Should give time for sufficient work to be done in class under direct supervision to allow the teacher to authenticate each candidate's whole work with confidence.
- x. Should examine intermediate stages in the production of work in order to ensure that the work is underway in a planned and timely manner.
- xi. Should introduce classroom activities that use the level of knowledge/understanding achieved during the coursework thereby making the teacher confident that the pupils understands the material.
- xii. Could ask pupils to make a short verbal presentation to the rest of the group on their work.
- xiii. Should explain the importance of the candidate producing work which is their own and stress to them and to their parents/carers the penalties of malpractice.
- xiv. Must take care to ensure that work undertaken in previous years' examinations by other pupils is not submitted as their own by candidates for the current examination. The safe keeping of such earlier work is of great importance, and its issue to candidates for reference purposes should be carefully monitored.
- xv. Must not accept, without further investigation, work which you suspect has been plagiarised; to do so encourages the spread of this practice.

Dealing with Plagiarism

- i. There are three steps in the process for dealing with plagiarism, keeping watch, confirmation and reporting.
- ii. There are a number of clues that point to the possibility of plagiarism, and you should remain alert to the possibility of spotting these.

Keeping Watch on Content

- i. You should check a candidate's work for acknowledgement of sources as the work is being completed. Particular care should be taken when candidates submit work without completing intermediate stages.
- ii. Varying quality of content is one of the most obvious pointers. Well-written passages containing detailed analyses of relevant facts alternating with poorly constructed and irrelevant linking passages ought to give rise to suspicion.
- iii. Another practice is for candidates to write the introduction and conclusion to an assignment to make it fit the question, and then fill in the middle with work which has been lifted from elsewhere.
- iv. If the work is not focused on the topic, but presents a well-argued account of a related matter, this could be a sign that it has been used elsewhere. The same applies if parts of the work do not fit well together in developing the response to the assignment.

- v. When candidates submit completed work without intermediate stages this can be an indication that the work is not the candidate's own.
- vi. Dated expressions, and references to past events as being current can also be indications of work which has been copied from out-of-date sources. Keeping watch on vocabulary, spelling and punctuation
- vii. The use of a mixture of English and American vocabulary or spellings can be a sign that the work is not original.
- viii. If the piece contains specialised terminology, jargon, obscure or advanced words, the teacher should ask if this is typical of this level of candidate and reasonable, or is it because the candidate did not write the passage.
- ix. Is the style of punctuation regular and consistent?
- x. Keeping watch on style and tone
- xi. Look for differences in the style or the tone of writing. If a candidate uses material from textbooks alongside items from popular magazines the change of tone between the two should be marked.
- xii. Look at level of sophistication of the sentence structure. Is this the sort of language that can be expected from the candidate? Is the use of language consistent, or does it vary? Does a change in style reflect a change in authorship at these points?

Keeping Watch on Presentation

Look at the presentation of the piece. If it is typed, are the size and style of font uniform? What about the use of headers and sub-headers? Are the margins consistent throughout? Does the text employ references and if so is the style of referencing consistent? Are there any references, for example, to figures, tables or footnotes, which don't make sense (because they have not been copied)? Lack of references in a long, well-written section could indicate that it had been copied from an encyclopaedia or similar general knowledge source. Look out for quotations that run on beyond the part which has been acknowledged.

Confirmation

- i. If you suspect that an assignment has been plagiarised, the next step is to try to locate the source.
- ii. The easiest method is to type a four to six word phrase from the text (preferably one with an unusual phrase in it) directly into a search engine such as Google and perform an "exact phrase search". If the article was copied from the free, visible web there is a good chance this approach will find it, particularly if a few search engines are tried. Another method is to look through the web-sites that pupils use, as these are common sources for essays and assignments. Examiners should familiarise themselves with the websites that offer essay distribution or writing services. A list of these is given at the end of this article, but as new sites frequently open this list does not claim to be comprehensive or up-to-date. Use a search engine to find other similar sites. Once on the site a quick search may be all that is needed to locate the source of a suspect piece. If it does not come up through these searches, the piece may have been taken from the "invisible web", that is, from articles which are not separately indexed to a search engine, although the site itself is. Sites run by newspapers, magazines, online encyclopaedias, subject specific sites, and those sites providing help with essays tend to fall into this category, and would have to be searched individually, but again the use of a few well-chosen words in a “find” tool could produce results.

- iii. Computer programmes to detect plagiarism have been available commercially for some time. While at first they were very slow and inefficient, they are now greatly improved, and their use is increasing. There are two basic types. The first type requires software to be installed on the user’s machine. This compares a pupil’s essay to a defined bank of essays such as an institution’s own record of previous pupils’ work. The second and more sophisticated approach compares a submitted essay to the whole of the web and beyond. The most successful of these tools is called “Turnitin” which is web-based and thus requires no installation. The manufacturers claim that all work submitted to their web-site: “is checked against three databases of content:
 - Both a current and extensively archived copy of the publicly accessible Internet (more than 4.5 billion pages updated at a rate of 40 million pages per day);
 - Millions of published works, including the ProQuest commercial database, ABI/Inform, Periodical Abstracts, Business Dateline, and tens of thousands of electronic books including the Gutenberg Collection of Literary Classics;
 - Millions of pupil papers already submitted to Turnitin” www.turnitin.com
- iv. A report is then produced which identifies any text that is found to be unoriginal and links it to its original source. The Joint Information Systems Committee (JISC) offers a similar UK based service. See the bibliography below for contact details.
- v. In addition to the ability to locate original sources, the use of computer-based detection systems is a powerful deterrent to those who otherwise might be tempted to commit plagiarism. If plagiarism is suspected, conducting a viva voce with the candidate may help a teacher to assess whether the work is that of the pupil. If an investigation is inconclusive the work in question could be removed and replaced by alternative work whose authenticity is not in doubt. Alternatively the candidate could be given another piece of work to complete under controlled conditions in the centre. This would provide a standard by which to judge the other work.

Reporting

- i. If your suspicions are confirmed and the candidate has not signed the declaration of authentication, your centre need not report the malpractice to the appropriate Awarding Body. Centres can resolve the matter themselves prior to the signing of the declarations. Teachers must not accept work which is not the candidate’s own.
- ii. Ultimately the Head of the Centre has the responsibility for ensuring that candidates do not submit plagiarised work. If plagiarism is detected by the centre and the declaration of authentication has been signed, the case must be reported to the Awarding Body. The procedure is detailed in Guidance for Dealing with Instances of Suspected Malpractice in Examinations; this document is published by JCQ.
- iii. If plagiarism is suspected by an Awarding Body’s moderator or examiner or has been reported by a candidate or member of the public, full details of the allegation will be reported to the centre. The Head of Centre will be asked to conduct an investigation into the alleged malpractice and to submit a written report. The form contained in the document Guidance for Dealing with Instances of Suspected Malpractice in Examinations (JCQ/M/01) should be used as a basis for this report.

- iv. The Awarding Body will then consider the case and, if necessary, impose a sanction in line with the penalties given in the document Guidance for Dealing with Instances of Suspected Malpractice in Examinations. The sanctions applied to a candidate committing plagiarism range from a warning regarding future conduct to the candidate being barred from entering for one or more examinations for a set period of time.

Guidance on Referencing:

- i. A reference in the text, or as a footnote, should show at least the name of the author, the year of publication and the page number: For example: (Morrison, 2000, pg.29.)
- ii. Candidates must also include a bibliography at the end of their work, which lists details of publications that have been used to research their project. For example: Morrison, A. (2000) "Mary, Queen of Scots", London: Weston Press.
- iii. For material taken from web pages, the reference must show the precise web page, not the search engine used to locate it. This can be copied from the address line. For example:
<http://www.bbc.co.uk/schools/16/sosteacher/history/49766.shtml>
- iv. For individual works found through the internet, the reference should show the details as in (b), above, plus the URL and the date accessed. For example: Airey, C. (2004). The State of Play Today [Online] 6th Edition. Available: <http://classics.mit.edu/Plato/republic.html> [20th September 2001].

13.9 Exam Days

- i. The Exams Officer will book all exam rooms after liaison with other users and make the question papers, other exam stationery and materials available for the invigilator.
- ii. Site management is responsible for setting up the allocated rooms.
- iii. The lead invigilator will start all exams in accordance with JCQ guidelines.
- iv. Subject staff may be present at the start of the exam to assist with identification of candidates but must not advise on which questions or sections are to be attempted. Directors of Learning or a member of SLT can help in organisation of pupils outside the exam rooms to ensure a prompt, orderly start.

- v. In practical exams subject teachers may be on hand in case of any technical difficulties.
- vi. Exam papers must not be read by subject teachers or removed from the exam room before the end of a session. Papers will be distributed to Directors of Learning at the end of the exam session.
- vii. After an exam, the Exams Officer will arrange for the safe dispatch of completed examination scripts to the awarding bodies.

13.10 Candidates (including Private Candidates)

- i. The Exams Officer will provide written information to candidates in advance of each exam series.
- ii. The centre's published rules on acceptable dress, behaviour and candidates' use of mobile phones and other electronic devices apply at all times.
- iii. Candidates' personal belongings remain their own responsibility and the centre accepts no liability for their loss or damage.
- iv. In an exam room candidates must not have access to items other than those clearly allowed in the instructions on the question paper, the stationery list, or the specification for that subject. No mobile phones, watches or electronic communication or storage devices.
- v. Disruptive candidates are dealt with in accordance with JCQ guidelines. Candidates are expected to stay for the full exam time at the discretion of the Exams Officer or Senior Invigilator.
- vi. Note: candidates may only leave the exam room for a genuine purpose and are required to return immediately to the exam room. They must be accompanied by a member of staff at all times.
- vii. The Exams Officer is responsible for handling late or absent candidates on exam day or subsequently. This is done in line with JCQ guidelines and expectations.
- viii. For clash candidates, the supervision of candidates, identifying a secure venue and arranging overnight supervision is the responsibility of the Exams Officer.
- ix. Should a candidate be ill before an exam, suffer bereavement or other trauma, be taken ill during the exam itself or otherwise disadvantaged or disturbed during an exam, then it is the candidate's responsibility to alert the centre, the Exams Officer, or the exam invigilator, to that effect.
- x. The candidate must support any special consideration claim with appropriate evidence within three days of the exam, for example by providing a letter from the candidate's doctor.
- xi. The Exams Officer will then forward a completed special consideration form to the relevant awarding body within seven days of the exam.
- viii. Private candidates: any private candidate entered by the centre must liaise with the Exams Officer (not the awarding body) regarding any application for special consideration.

13.11 Internal Assessment

13.15 EARS

- i. EARS may be requested by centre staff or candidates if there are reasonable grounds for believing there has been an error in marking. The candidate's consent is required before any EAR is requested.
- ii. If a result is queried, the Exams Officer, teaching staff and Head of Centre will investigate the feasibility of asking for a re-mark at the centre's expense.
- iii. When the centre does not support a candidate's or parent's request for an EAR, a candidate may apply to have an enquiry carried out. If a candidate requires this against the advice of subject staff, they will be charged.

13.16 ATS

- i. After the release of results, candidates may ask subject staff to request the return of papers within three days' scrutiny of the results.
- ii. Centre staff may also request scripts for investigation or for teaching purposes. For the latter, the consent of candidates must be obtained.

2. Purpose of the Plan

This plan examines potential risks and issues that could cause disruption to the management and administration of the exam process. By outlining actions / procedures to be invoked in cases of disruption, we intend to mitigate the impact these disruptions have on the exam process.

Alongside internal processes, this plan is informed by scenarios contained in the Joint Contingency Plan in the Event of Widespread Disruption to The Examination System in England, Wales and Northern Ireland.

This plan complies with JCQ general regulations in that each Centre agrees to “have in place a written examination contingency plan / examinations policy which covers all aspects of examination administration. This will allow members of the senior leadership team to have a robust contingency plan in place, minimising risk to examination administration, should the examinations officer be absent at a crucial stage of the examination cycle.”

Implementing the plan will safeguard the interests of candidates while maintaining the integrity of the examination system and safeguarding qualification standards. The contingencies covered have been implemented on several occasions in response to localised issues in other centres. They would be applied on a larger scale in response to any widespread disruption at a national level. The priority when implementing contingencies will be to maintain three principles:

- i. delivering assessments to published timetables;
- ii. delivering results to published timetables;
- iii. complying with regulatory requirements in relation to assessment, marking and standards.

Non-Examination Assessment Procedure

This procedure affects the delivery of subjects of reformed GCSE qualifications which contain a component(s) of non-examination assessment.

“The regulator’s definition of an examination is very narrow and in effect any type of assessment that is not ‘externally set and taken by candidates at the same time under controlled conditions’ is classified as non-examination assessment (NEA). ‘NEA’ therefore includes, but is not limited to, internal assessment. Externally marked and/or externally set practical examinations taken at different times across centres are classified as ‘NEA’.”

Purpose of the Procedure

Internal Appeals Process

Hartshill Academy is committed to promoting quality, consistency, accuracy, and fairness in assessment and thus in awarding. We aim to ensure that:

- i. Internal assessments are conducted by staff who have the appropriate knowledge, understanding and skills;
- ii. Assessment evidence provided by candidates has been produced and authenticated according to the requirements of the specification for each subject;
- iii. The consistency of the internal assessment is secured through internal standardisation as necessary;
- iv. Staff responsible for internal standardisation and/or assessment attend any compulsory training sessions.

This Policy details the procedure regarding appeals by pupils relating to internal / controlled assessment decisions made by an academy submitted to awarding bodies. It outlines how appeals may be made to the academy regarding the procedures followed but does not cover the actual marks or grades submitted by the academy to the awarding body.

Any concerns about the procedures used in assessing internally marked work for public exams (e.g. coursework/portfolio/projects/performance) should be discussed with the subject teacher and / or Head of Department in the first instance. If this fails to resolve the concerns, these should be brought to the attention of the Exams Officer as soon as possible.

Each awarding body specifies detailed criteria for the internal assessment of work. After work has been assessed internally it is moderated by the awarding body to ensure consistency between Centres. Such moderation frequently changes the marks awarded for internally assessed work and the final judgement on marks awarded lies with the awarding body. This is outside the control of the academy and is not covered by this internal appeals policy.

Appeals Procedure

The Examinations Officer manages the appeals process.

A written appeal must be received by the Examinations Officer no more than 14 days after the deadline for coursework marks to be sent to the relevant awarding body. The appeal must state the details of the complaint and the reasons for the appeal. All supporting evidence should be included with the appeals notice.

An enquiry into the internal assessment will be conducted by the Examinations Officer, Head of Department for the relevant subject area and a member of the Leadership Team, unless any of these individuals have been directly involved in the original internal assessment process. The panel will include a review of the procedures used by the academy to award marks for internal/controlled assessment and will consider whether the procedures conform to the published requirements of the awarding body. This will be undertaken within 14 days of receipt of the written appeal.

Wherever possible, appeals will be considered and resolved by the date of the last externally assessed paper of the examination series. Any difficulties in meeting this deadline will be raised with the awarding body.

The teacher making the assessment will be asked to respond to the appeal in writing and a copy will be sent to the appellant.

Appendix 3

The Examinations Officer will convey the outcome of the appeal and clear reasons for the outcome in writing to the appellant within 5 working days of the final decision. Any changes made to the assessment of the candidate's work and any steps taken to further protect the interest of the candidates at the academy will be confirmed.

Candidates will be able to obtain access to:

- i. the breakdown of marks awarded to them for an internal assessment;
- ii. all comments recorded by the academy relating to their internally assessed work;
- iii. any relevant communications with the awarding body;
- iv. information if available at the time of the appeal as to whether the work was sampled by the awarding body;
- v. the moderated mark given by the awarding body if known;
- vi. relevant awarding body procedures for the conduct of internal assessment.

The academy will maintain a written record of all appeals and subsequent decisions. The awarding bodies will be informed of any change to an internally assessed mark as a result of an appeal, of any implications for the conduct of the examination or for the issue of results at the academy. Full details of any appeal will be available to the awarding body on request.

Enquiries about Results (EAR)

Each awarding body publishes procedures for appeals against its decisions. The Exams Officer will provide copies of these procedures and offer advice to candidates.

Appeals against a grade or a result of an external examination have to be lodged by the academy. The Head of Department will decide whether the academy should support an EAR, taking into consideration knowledge of the exam system and their professional judgement.

The candidate will be required to acknowledge that their grade may be confirmed, raised or lowered and will be responsible for paying the relevant fee at the time of the request where the academy does not uphold a request for such an enquiry.

Where the pupil wishes to challenge the decision not to hold an enquiry or consequent appeal, a similar procedure to that stated above will be carried out.
